SWIFT CO. INDICTED IN ALBANY.

Fovils Said to Have Been Kept in Storage for Illegal Periods.

ALBANY, Jan. 4.—Six sealed indictments were presented in the county court here to-day against the Swift Packing Company, charging that chickens and other fowls were placed in storage at various times in 1913 in the Eastern States Refrigerating Company plant and that the company allowed them to stay there until April 4, 1914, when, it is alleged, they were transferred to the Hygient lee and Refrigerating Company plant and kept there until November 23, 1914.

Thus, it is alleged, the fowls remained in storage longer than three months, the time allowed by law.
